Angie reminded the participants of the progress the huddle has made during the past year and the growth we've experienced as we continue to learn. She added that new huddle passports are available to those wanting one as they exit. Lastly, she thanked the following individuals for their extra contributions to the weekly huddle; Rhonda Sneed, Dave O'Dell, Bob Jaudes and Janet Price. She then turned the huddle over to Justin Hill for the Star Projections.

Justin thanked Jeff Scott and Kate Morris for their efforts in the calculations to determine the best departmental and office budget projections for 2015. Justin's presentation had a Star Wars based theme which provided an entertainment value to the proceedings. Justin mentioned that while most offices had projections that were within an acceptable range, the following had less than a .25% difference from actual expenditures and were worthy of special recognition:

- 5TH Place - within .23% of actual expenses was awarded to the Jail.
- 4TH Place - within .11% was awarded to General Services.
- 3RD Place - within .10% was awarded to Road and Bridge.
- 2ND Place - within .10%, narrowly edging out Road and Bridge as carried out to the ten-thousandth digit, was awarded to Emergency Management.
- 1ST Place - within .01% was awarded to the Recorder of Deeds. Recorder Cheryl Dawson received the award for her office.

Justin closed by offering special recognition to the Resource Management Department, that despite encountering unforeseen budgetary circumstances that amounted to 13%, still managed to project within .39% of actual.
