

Great Game Huddle Notes

May 30th, 2017

This morning we had a little fun and tested everyone's memory with another game of Greene County Jeopardy, hosted by no other than our own top notch emcee and Greene County Treasurer, Justin Hill.

Four members of the audience good-naturedly volunteered to be Jeopardy contestants: Janet Price of the Auditor's office, Stephanie Myers of the Juvenile office, Mike Crawford of the Assessor and Julie Rost of the Collector of Revenue. Topics included Jack Stack's book "The Great Game of Business", previous Character Core presentations and Commission Corner discussions, to name a few.

Lots of topics were answered quickly and accurately by the contestants, proving that everyone has been paying attention in the huddles! Julie Rost came in first with a final score of 1900 points!! WAY TO GO, JULIE!! Julie's grand prize was a $15 gift card for Big Momma's and all contestants received a $5 gift card, just for participating. Big thanks to Justin for organizing such a fun event.
