

Great Game of Huddle Notes August 6, 2019

Angie Crews started today's Huddle by introducing Ron Killingsworth. Ron spoke about one of the character core on Sincerity.

Sincerity: Doing what is right with transparent motives

Check your motives

- Who benefits (myself, others, or mutual)
- Be respectful

Mean what you say

- Words matter
- Builds trust
- We are drawn to those who have a servant attitude character

Walk the talk

- Take action
- Own your mistakes
- Be consistent

John Russell presented from Jack Stack's "The Great Game of Business" Myths of Management Chapter.

Myth #3: A manager's job is to come up with answers. This way of thinking sets the manager up for failure and hurts their credibility.

Two takeaways:

- You are better off sharing problems – use the people you work with to come up with solutions.
- Make contingency planning habit of mind.

Side Note:

We were pleased to have a total of 11 guests from Missouri's Departments of Social Services, Natural Resources, Economic Development, Office of Administration, and others. They all had a brief statement of who they were and what department they represent.
